Designed for healthcare and wellness

Collingwood™ is a finely tailored club chair, presenting a transitional style that will complement a range of modern and traditional interiors. The series includes low back and high back models, with square tapered legs offered in a wide range of wood and urethane finishes.

Collingwood has been designed specifically for healthcare and wellness applications to provide the correct seat height, seat depth, arm height and back angle. Enhanced housekeeping and sanitizing requirements are supported with a full clean out, optional sealed seams and moisture barrier.
