High back armchair

The Wingback™ chair offers timeless elegance in a refined, small-scale design – perfect for lounges, lobbies common areas and patient rooms. Developed in consultation with healthcare specialists, it was carefully engineered to meet the needs of healthcare and senior living environments. The back height, arm height, wing size and lumbar support have been modified to better fit the user physically, removing barriers common in larger models.

For comfort and durability, it features a removable Ultracell foam seat cushion with a waterfall front edge. The cushion is fully enclosed in upholstery with a nylon zippered opening, protecting the interior construction from spills and other contaminants. The classic Chippendale leg adds sophistication, allowing the Wingback to complement a wide range of interior styles.
